THE NEWS GROWS GRAVER.

Officials Regard Situation as Extremely Critical.

TREACHERY THEORY GAINS.

The President Hopes it Was an Accident--Results of Investigation Are Kept Secret.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 25—The Evening Sun says: This morning's news from Washington is graver than it has been since the Maine was sunk. High officers of the administration no longer conceal the fact that they regard the situation as extremely critical. While nothing is being said as to the result of the court of inquiry all news that comes out whether true or not, supports the belief that the Maine was blown up by outside agencies.

The President and Secretary Long still hope the result of the inquiry will show that the Maine was blown up by accident. If the results show that it was blown up by treachery the President is reported as saying that war is inevitable. From the very first the administration in all its branches has rushed preparations for the contingency of war. The Maine commission holds a daily session and takes every precaution to keep the results secret. The censorship at Havana is so strict that correspondents can hardly get news through. More unexploded powder was recovered from the Maine today.

THE TWO NEYS AGAIN.

Evidence Going to Show that P. S. Ney Was Marshall Ney.

Your correspondent today received an interesting letter from Rev. Dr. J. H. Weston, rector of the Episcopal church at Wilkesboro, in which Dr. Weston says:

"The librarian of Davidson College has recently found a book in the college library, entitled 'Life of Napolean Bonapart'—I forgot the name of author—in which is a portrait of Marshall Ney.

"Peter S. Ney read this book in 1841, a few months before his death, and under the portrait of Ney he wrote in French: 'This is not a correct likeness of Marshall Ney.' He then, with a pencil, drew on the same page a sketch of Marshall, with these words underneath; 'Ney, by himself. Il fut chauve. (He was baldheaded.)

"The picture in the book represents Ney as having a full head of hair, while it is not true, as Marshall Ney's memoirs state that he was baldheaded, or nearly bald. The sketch of Marshall Ney which P. S. Ney drew is an accurate likeness of Marshall Ney, and also a very good one of Peter S. Ney.

"This 'find' I think is of great importance. It is certainly very strong additional proof of the truth of my theory that P. S. Ney was Marshall Ney. It seems to me to clinch the argument.

"This sketch of Marshall Ney, as made by P. S. Ney, together with some valuable notes written by the latter, will appear in a few days in the Historical Magazine of Davidson College and a review of my book (in connection with this discovery) written by one of the professors at the college, will accompany the publication."—Col. Old's Correspondence.

A Performance of Rare Merit.

Now and then we are treated to a performance of rare merit and the recollection of the pleasure and enjoyment derived from witnessing such a performance is always agreeble. On Friday evening, February 25th, Mr. Augustin Daly's comedy "A Night Off" will be presented at the Academy of Music. This comes in a measure as a great treat as it is acknowledged to be the best comedy ever produced at Mr. Daly's theatre in New York, where it ran for over 100 nights.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Feb. 25, '98.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church while making preparations for their sociable yesterday afternoon were interrupted in their work by Rev. J. R. Scroggs and a party of young people who, with smiling faces entered uninvited, but who were welcomley received when their intent was learned.

The party was composed Miss Etta Bencini and Mr. Lee Payne, who had secretly invited a few friends to witness their marrige. The work in which the ladies were engaged was suspended and they seated themselves.

The marriage was solemnized at 3:30 o'clock. Miss Lucy Eshleman acted as maid of honor and Mr. Darius Payne as best man.

The attendants were Miss Bertha Snow and Virgil Idol; Miss Lucy Ehleman and Dr. A. E. Frazier.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Payne left for Greensboro where they will spend several days visiting friends.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church gave a reception last night to all the members of their church. A delightful program was well rendered, after which refreshments were served in elegant style.

Miss Maggie Bradford and John W. Whitt were married last night at the home of the bride's father, John W. Bradford, Magistrate W. B. Steele, officiating.

Dr. Robert L. Moose, of Statesville, is at Jarrell's.

W. H. Ragan arrived in the city this morning on the vestibule from the north.

Capt. W. E. Johns, of Mt. Airy, is in the city today, the guest of his son, J. E. Johns.

The minstrel boys are preparing for a great time tonight.

ROAD MAKING IN RANDOLPH.

The Comissioners Will Soon Buy a Road Machine.

We are reliably informed that the commissioners of Randolph county will, probably at their next meeting, buy a road machine for use in improving the public roads in that county. The Telegram always takes pleasure in recording such news as this. The commissioners are to be commended for the progressive spirit manifested. Especially do we congratulate the chairman, A. J. Tomlinson, on his efforts to secure better transportation facilities for the people of his county by giving them better county roads.

We learn that some Randolph people are complaining that last year about two thousand dollars were spent and only twelve or fifteen miles of road built. They should remember, however, that it costs a good deal of money to start any enterprise before results are seen or dividends declared. It is more than likely that the biggest part of this money was expended in buying teams, tools, and equipment for working the roads and that the second year will show at least three times the improvement as a result of the expenditure of a like amount.

Get in front of the procession, Brother Hammer, and lend your commissioners a helping hand in this matter of good roads, which is of such vital importance to the rapid growth and development of the country.

EWART WILL BE DEFEATED.

Butler Wishes to Force Pritchard to Take the Judgeship.

The Sentinel has it from a perfectly reliable source that Judge H. G. Ewart will never be confirmed as judge of the United States federal court for this the Western North Carolina district.

It is known in Washington, says a gentleman just from that city, that Senator Butler has enough against Ewart to prevent him from going in.

A leading republican here was asked this afternoon to name the man who would be appointed, if Judge Ewart is knocked out. He expressed the opinion that it would be Col. Boyd—and then asked: "Wonder if Senator Butler would fight his confirmation?"

This republican stated that Butler's object in fighting Ewart was to force Senator Pritchard to take the judgeship, "but I don't believe he will succeed in this," said he.

CAPT. EULATE'S GOOD-BYE

Declared That He Had Enjoyed His Visit.

COURT OF INQUIRY CONTINUES

Little Information to be Gotten from Civilian Witnesses—Tugs Working at the Debris.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

New York, Feb. 25—Captain Eulate of the visiting Spanish warship Vizcaya, before sailing today, sent the following message by carrier pigeon to the New York Journal:

"By this emblem of peace I bid you good-bye. I have enjoyed my visit very much. I hope I may see my friends in New York again.

[Signed] "Eulate."

COURT OF INQUIRY.

Havana, Feb. 25—The Mangrove is still here. The court of inquiry is continuing its usual sessions. The members hope to leave this evening or tomorrow. Though this is not sure it is highly probable. The testimony of civilian witnesses did not add much to the court's knowledge of the circumstances attending the explosion of the causes of which the witnesses knew nothing, they being at a distance.

The wrecking tugs are removing what they can of the debris. The public generally is excluded from the official vessels. The wounded are doing well.

RUMORS DENIED.

New York Troops Not to Be Ordered Out Now.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Albany, Feb. 25—Col. Frederick Phisterer, assistant adjutant general, today declared that there is no truth in the report telegraphed from Buffalo that the war department had sent orders to the commanders of the national guard regiments of that city instructing them to go to Washington immediately and also denied that Col. Roe of the state national guard had sent instructions to the commanders of the regiments to separate the companies and drill their men in heavy marching order.

Evangelist Lee in Florida.

We make the following extracts from the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times, anent the Lee tent meetings in that place:

The revival meeting which has been going on for a week will close tomorrow night. Rev. Lee the evangelist is a forceful speaker and while some may object to his way of putting things, there is no question but he tells some forcible truths.

* * * *

Bro. Ball says that Bro. Auld says that Rev, Lee brought down the Stars on Sunday night.

* * * *

Rev. Lee, the evangelist, is a perfect volcano when he gets warmed up. Vesuvius at her best, could not belch forth more brimstone, lava and sulphur in a given time than the doctor can. The brimstone permeates the air. Parties get mad yet they go again and for the past week, twice a day, the tent has been the attraction. It is to be hoped that the doctor has accomplished much and lasting good in our midst. He will go from here to Tampa and assist Rev. Moody in stirring up the dry bones of that city.

She Was Shipped in a Trunk.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 23—A despatch from Lerdo, Mexico, says that a remarkable elopement has just been frustrated there. Senorita Juanita Beran, daughter of a prominent citizen, secreted herself in a trunk and arranged with a servant to have it shipped to Torreon, where she was to join her lover, Enrique Serrega, and the two were to come to Texas and be married.

Before the trunk reached Torreon the girl was suffering so terribly that she made her presence known. She was released and taken to a hospital. Serrega, her lover, was arrested and is now in prison.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the occulist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following;

IN THE TEMPLE OF JUSTICE.

A negro was brought up for trial yesterday on a charge of wife beating. The evidence clearly showed that he was guilty of beating his wife cruelly and with a deadly weapon. The jury promptly convicted him. He was handed on to Judge Robinson to be sentenced. His Honor asked the prisoner several questions. He was asked what his wife did in the way of helping to support the family and replied that she took in washing. He was asked what his occupation was and could not tell. He evidently did not have any. His Honor asked the prisoner if six months on the roads would be too much for him. The prisoner did not know. His Honor remarked that it was hard to tear a man away from his wife and children and made the prisoner's time four months. The clerk entered the sentence. His Honor turned to the solicitor and said: "Mr. Solicitor suppose we let him off this time and try him." The clerk erased the sentence and the loving husband was allowed to return to the bosom of his family, giving his own recognizance for costs. The next case was called.

A correspondent of the New York Sun, commenting on these lines of Kipling,

"For a woman is a woman,
But a good cigar's a smoke," says:

"When we consider Kipling is usually in dead earnest and means exactly what he says, most women would consider his opinion a relic of the middle ages, when women were on a level with a good cigar."

The writer should not have stopped at the middle ages. Is it not a well known fact that during the declining days of the Roman Empire a choice Havana was worth as much as a beautiful female slave? It is strange that the New York Sun, which is really the only omniscient paper in this country, except the Caucasian, should not have edited the letter more carefully.

What would this democratic machine journalism have done if Senator Butler or Senator Pritchard had left their places in congress to defend a monopoly as did Hon. John W. Daniel last week? My! But wouldn't "she" have howled?—Caucasian.

Surely the Caucasian forgets itself. The democratic press would have sung paeans. For is it not given up wholly to providing povender for these monopolistic monsters that are already waxed even too fat to kick? How could a democratic press that is in the pay of corporations and combines attack anybody for defending them? It is only the populistic press, under the magnificent leadership of the Caucasian, that has the courage to speak out and the brains and taste to speak well concerning all things—from the initiative and referendum to the nature and essence of poetry.

The New York World, which supported the republican party in the last campaign, has suddenly become very much displeased with the administration The reason for this cooling of the cockles of its heart is to be found in the refusal of Captain Sigsbee to let the World's divers investigate the wreck of the Maine. The World is of the opinion that it could have had most of the bodies out before this. There were already vultures circling around the Maine.

The Telegram appreciates the kindness of the Winston Republican and would assure its contemporary that it is not drifting at all. It has a full grown steering gear and propellers.

When Governor Russell said "Hancock is a liar," he probably made a statement that will gain wider credence than any other of His Excellency's administration.

Joan of Arc's preliminary to her admission to saintship is near at hand. Signor Minetti has been appointed to plead her case, while Mgr. Lugari will be the advocatus diaboli.

Albert Edward Prince of Wales, has beaten one record of his predecessor, George IV. He is about to be elected Grand Master of the English Free Masons for the 24th time.

There has been a steady decrease during the last ten years of candidates for holy orders in England, and among them the proportion of Oxford and Cambridge graduates is also diminishing. The numbers ordained in 1897 was 1,296, which is the lowest in 22 years.

Clerks in the house of commons will have their morals looked after henceforth. No one under 24 years of age will be admitted to the civil service examination unless he lives at home or his parents provide him with such a place of residence as "shall meet with the approval of the clerk of the house of commons."

An ingenious stage waterfall devised by M. Gailhard has attracted attention at the Paris opera balls. It is made of tulle stretched on frames imitating the curves of a fall. Behind it little streams of water are discharged through perforated pipes against a metal plate, so as to throw a spray upon the tulle. When the electric light is played on this the effect is magical.

The Prince of Montenegro, the beautiful mother of the Crown Prince of Italy, has been visiting Rome and startling the Romans by wearing her picturesque national costume. When driving she wears a bright scarlet silk cloak thickly embroidered with gold, and on her head a diadem of black velvet glistening with gold coins and gems. For the opera she dresses in cloth of gold.

"THEN GOD HELP SPAIN."

Admiral Gherardi's Comment on the Theory the Maine Was Blown Up.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 23—Rear Admiral Bancroft Gherardi, retired, said to a reporter today:

"If the disaster to the Maine was caused by an accident, well and good, but if it was an act of treachery, and the immediate cause of the disaster was a torpedo or a mine, God help Spain."

"In the event of war being declared is our navy in such shape as to meet the Spanish navy with any degree of confidence?" the Admiral was asked.

There was a defiant ring in the Admiral's reply:

"We have the cleanest navy in the world. Not only the cleanest, but we have the best fighting blood of any navy in the world. The boys would ask for only twenty-four hours with the Spanish navy. I have the greatest respect in the world for the British navy, and so have the rank and file of our navy, but we are not afraid of them, and certainly we have considerable confidence in our ability to uphold the honor of the country in a meeting with Spain's navy."

TWO POWERFUL WARSHIPS.

The Kentucky and Kearsarge to be Launched on March 28.

Washington, Feb. 24—The launching of two great warships on the same day, the first occurrence of the kind in this country, takes place on March 28 next, when the sister vessels Kearsarge and Kentucky will be sent from their ways at the yard of the Newport News Company. The president of the firm and Secretary Long have agreed on this date, and arrangements will be made to have present a distinguished party of government officials and officers connected with the navy department. Miss Bradley christens the Kentucky and Mrs. Winslow, wife of Lieut. Winslow of the navy, the Kearsarge.

Both ships are the most powerful ever launched in the United States, and are unlike in type, and especially in battery arrangements to any of their class in the world. They are more powerful than the Iowa, the finest fighter of the present naval force, and have the superposed turrets fore and aft, mounting four thirteens and four eights. The broadside batteries will be also very strong. When launched these ships will be nearer completion than any war vessels of this government have been on first taking the water. The contract with the navy calls for their completion on Jan. 1 next. Armor for their sides is now stored at the yard and ready for installation soon after the vessels are launched.

Thieves Steal a Safe.

New York, Feb. 23—Farmer Charles Berns, of Queens county, reported today that burglars entered his home last night and carried off a safe, in which he had considerable money. The thieves went to his barn and took a wheelbarrow, on which they loaded the safe, and rolled it nearly half a mile. Then they blew it open and stole the contents.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for coughs, colds and consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at C E. Holton's drug store.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

A. M. Lindau and little son left today for a few days visit to Baltimore.

Hudson's announcement for Saturday's trade will be found at the top of this page. Read it.

Another special sale of shoes at Shrier's for tomorrow and Monday. Prices quoted in his ad today.

H. G. Griffin, of the Southern railway, is in the city. He says his foot is slowly getting well and he is at last able to wear his shoe.

It is claimed by those who have actually tried it that Mrs. Joe Person's remedy will cure eczema. Read a late testimonial in the advertising columns today.

President Atkins, of Slater Industrial Academy, Winston, was here today returning from a southern trip. Prof. Atkins says the Slater Academy is steadily on the up grade.

O. Jud Carroll, as a newspaper man, seems to be a hustler as well as he was as United States marshal. He says he is adding large numbers daily to the subscription list of the Morning Post. He came through this city today going home from Winston.

Our readers, perhaps, remember the clever young artist, Donald Bowles, comedian with the Burglar when that play was given here. The Telegram received a note from him this morning saying that he is now with "A Night Off," which will be put on the boards at the Academy of Music tonight. He says "A Night Off" company is the cleverest on the road and says he "hopes to see ours and many other familiar faces in front tonight."

A Book Party.

A party of friends gathered at the residence of the Misses Smith on W. Gaston street last evening, in couples as follows:

Miss Trotter and C. C. Johnson.
Miss Hanner and B. S. Phillips.
Miss Eller and P. G. Welch.
Miss Ferguson and Mr. Clark.
Miss Thomas and Mr. Clendenin.
Miss Pearce and Mr. Curtis.
Miss Ball and Mr. Glasscock.
Miss Witherspoon and Mr. Phipps.
Miss Fordham and Mr. Stockton.
Will Finlator, stag.

Not the least feature of the evening was the dining room with an abundance of ice cream, fruits, cakes and candies. This always forms a peculiarly attractive feature of such occasions as these.

An amusing and entertaining feature was the arrangement of rebuses representing standard works. The prize was a "Book on Culture and Reform," by Brown. The booby, a rebus on Pickwick Papers. Prize won by Miss Julia Pearce; booby by Mr. C. C. Johnson.

The evening was pleasantly spent and was unanimously voted a success. At twelve o'clock the guests departed for their homes.

A RARE OLD POTRAIT.

This and Others Will be Placed in Battle Ground Museum.

Cottage, Guilford Battle Ground, Feb. 22nd, 1898.

Mr. Editor:—About 1827 a Mr Oliphant, quite an artist, in the rough perhaps but still a genius, visited Guilford county and painted the portraits of quite a number of its good people.

Mrs. C. C. Gorrell, born Gillespie, has one such of her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret, wife of the Regulator and Revolutionary patriot, Col. Daniel Gillespie. This is a quaint, and as the ladies would say, funny old picture, with the florid border of red roses. But it is possessed of real merit and the few who remember it, say it is a first rate likeness. The old lady is prim as was the custom of her times, neat and very pretty indeed. This precious relic was picked by Mrs. Gorrell in days gone by, from a pile of waste paper, where children, after tearing it into two parts had thrown it. Of the original is a very pretty copy by Miss Weatherly, can be seen at Mrs. Gorrell's on West Market street.

Unfortunately Col. Daniel's picture owned here was destroyed; Mrs. Gorrell, however, with proper fillial reverence, just pride and characteristic enterprise will secure one from Tennessee, she hopes, when she will have reproduced both grandfather's and grandmother's pictures, and present them to the Battle Ground museum, where henceforth and forever they will grace its walls, as they are entitled to do and certainly will do. Mr. Reader where are the relics of your revolutionary grandparents?

Joseph M. Morehead.
